The History of Dualit

Max Gort-Barten

The founder of Dualit

Max Gort-Barten was born in Germany in 1914 but living in England when WWII broke out. After five years in the army, he bought a factory in Camberwell, London so he could manufacture his first invention of a cocktail shaker.

1940S

Invention is in the genes

Next, Max designed a dual-light electric fire, inspiring the Dualit name. His first successful product was a flip-sided toaster patented in 1946.

1950S

A classic is born

Max designed a new commercial six slice toaster and the Gort-Barten family as well as local residents in Camberwell helped with production. Known today as the Classic Toaster, the current model has kept much of the original style and features.

Old Kent Road - London

1960S

Commercial superstar

Max bought a new factory on the Old Kent Road in South London as Dualit continued to grow. He designed a waffle iron as well as a bun toaster. A slot selector was developed for the Classic Toaster – a vital design element that remains a key feature.

1970S

From chefs to consumers

Max stepped down as Managing Director but Dualit remained in the Gort-Barten family as his son, Leslie joined. The Classic Toaster was given a new look, becoming popular in home kitchens and stocked in retail outlets such as John Lewis.

2020S

Looking forward...

Dualit is continuing in its efforts to make products more sustainable and to reduce waste. Leslie and Alex are leading the Dualit to develop exciting new innovations in hot chocolate, coffee, toasters and more...

Pro-Heat® Element

1990S

Innovation and awards

Leslie and Max designed the Pro-Heat® element. Covered in a high performance, protective material the element increased efficiency, lasted longer and won a prestigious Millennium Award. Pro-Heat® elements are still used in Classic Toasters today.

Our first coffee machine

1980S

Explosion in demand

Overseas demand for the Classic Toaster soared and together with its rising popularity in domestic kitchens, the factory was extended to cope with increasing order volumes. Dualit diversified its product range by designing its first coffee machines. In 1989, the Gort-Barten family celebrated as Max was awarded the MBE.

2000S

New premises, new products

Dualit moved to larger premises in West Sussex and Max's grandson, Alex joined Dualit. Dualit launched a new toaster range for the first time since the Classic; the Lite Toaster had some similar characteristics but different features.

2010S

Championing choice

Dualit invested in a production facility to manufacture Nespresso® compatible* coffee capsules, launched its own range and offered private label services. Leslie and Alex designed revolutionary tea capsules and compostable capsules.

British Design & Engineering

A message from Leslie Gort-Barten and Alex Gort-Barten

2025 is an exciting year for everyone here at Dualit, as we celebrate our 80th birthday. The last eight decades have been full of ground-breaking innovations and product development, and we still have more ideas! At Dualit, we want to offer our customers something they can't find anywhere else and we spend years refining the details to make your kitchen a happier place to cook.

Over the last 12 months, we have participated in several events, training days with some of our retail partners, product showcases both in the UK and overseas, press events and instore product demonstrations. We love meeting our customers, hearing their feedback and of course, it is always appreciated when we hear how our products have been part of the family over the years.

Take a look through our catalogue to see the new additions the West Sussex team has been working on. There's a stylish matt black finish on the Classic Range, an impressive dual-boiler

Espresso Pro® Coffee Machine and a refined collection of coffee pods and bags.

Later in the year, look out for an exquisite new finish on our ever-popular Classic Toaster, on-trend colour development in the Breakfast Range and most excitingly, a range of single-serve hot chocolate sachets that deliver on taste and convenience.

Finally, we can't fail to mention our recent "Great Taste" award wins for several coffee pods and coffee bags. All made in our West Sussex roastery, it is a testament to the time spent ensuring our coffee really does taste great!

No Frills. No Gimmicks.

We are proud of our in-house research and development team and extensive engineering expertise. We want to offer our customers something they can't find anywhere else and we spend years refining the details to make your kitchen a happier place to cook. We believe in our designs and have an increasing list of patents to show that our products are truly unrivalled.

PATENTED FEATURES

Constant product innovation is not only the key to Dualit's success but it's what inspires us. A patent protects an invention, preventing anyone else from reproducing, using or selling what we have worked hard to achieve, keeping it unique.

SUSTAINABLE MANUFACTURING

Dualit products are designed to work well for a long time and each undergoes rigorous 'life testing' programmes as part of the design process. Replacement attachments and accessories are available for many Dualit products and our repairable products include the Classic Toaster, Classic Kettle and some Coffee Machines. If products are returned to us that have reached the end of their life cycles, the design allows us to disassemble them so components such as the steel, aluminium and power cords can be recycled. We are continually looking at ways in which we can reduce our waste and this ethos extends to our coffee products. Our Compostable Coffee Capsule range is among our most popular and our EcoPress™ Aluminium Capsule Recycler was designed with the sole purpose of making it easier for customers to recycle not only Dualit, but any aluminium coffee capsule.

*Suitable for Nespresso® drop through capsule machines, excluding professional machines and 'built-in' models. Nespresso® trademark is owned by Société des Produits Nestlé S.A.

Water Softening Bag

A build-up of limescale is one of the most common causes of coffee machine break downs. Water Softening Bags are placed in your coffee machine's water tank and work to soften the water, reducing limescale build-up. Suitable for all Dualit pump espresso coffee machines with water tanks.

Watch our video in which Paulene, our Product Consultant at Dualit, explains how to use a Water Softening Bag. Paulene joined the Dualit team in 2007, over 17 years ago. Since then, Paulene has become a product expert and regularly demonstrates products in store. You may have even seen her on TV!

Kilrock Descaler

Limescale is one of the leading causes of coffee machines breaking down. To reduce limescale build-up in your coffee machine, we recommend descaling at least once a month with Kilrock Espresso and Coffee Machine Descaler.
